

BEASLEY WILL LEAVE TONIGHT TO GET MEDAL

Harry C. Beasley of Maple avenue, this city, one of the eleven seamen of the U. S. battleship Florida, who was awarded a medal by congress for heroism at Vera Cruz, Mexico, was the happiest boy in Newark today, for he was presented with a purse of money by Hon. Wm. E. Miller, which the latter had solicited from friends and which will enable the young man who fought so gallantly for his country to be present Wednesday in New York City when the hero medals will be presented aboard the Florida quartered at the Navy Yard.

Ex-Senator Miller took it upon himself to raise a purse for the young Newark hero in order that the city might be represented at the presentation as the government did not provide an appropriation for the occasion. Mr. Beasley leaves tonight at 9:15 o'clock for New York and he will stop at the Y. M. C. A. during his stay in New York, the building being adjacent to the navy yard. He will meet the other mariners who were awarded medals and also many of his old comrades. He stated today that he was indeed grateful to his friends who had made it possible for him to be present at the medal presentation.

Granville

(Special to Advocate.) Granville, Jan. 4.—Mrs. Wartenbe's four grandchildren will make an effort to return for the celebration of her hundredth anniversary on Thursday, January 7. Mrs. William Kees (Alma Spellman) of King's Mills, has already arrived with her young son, Mr. George Spellman of No. 12,435-Oscoda avenue, N. E., Cleveland, O., will probably return; Mr. Clarence Spellman of Phoenix, Ariz., and Miss Winnie Spellman of Carrizozo, N. M., are so far away that their coming is very uncertain. Mr. S. B. Brierly of Chicago, president of the Alumni Association of Denison University, writes that he surely will be on hand on that occasion.

TWO WOMEN ARE HELD UP WITHIN A FEW MINUTES

Mrs. Francis Taylor of Elmwood avenue, was the victim of a purse-snatcher, Saturday night about 6:40 o'clock, while going to her home. Ten minutes after this had been reported to police headquarters another report was made that Mrs. Dora McCullough was attacked while in Pearl street and robbed of $4 in money.

A police dragnet was thrown out immediately after the reports reached headquarters and officers were instructed to arrest all suspicious characters and hold them for investigation. But one arrest was made, that of a young man named Cochran, but he was able to show that he was in no way connected with the crimes and was soon released from custody. There is no clue to the identity of the holdup artist.

Mrs. Taylor was on her way home when she was suddenly confronted by a man who grabbed her purse and succeeded in making his escape in the darkness. This pocketbook was found by pedestrians in Fifth street in the rear of the Baptist church.

Mrs. McCullough was on her way to her home in Pearl street when she was attacked by a man who seized her handbag. The strap of the bag was hanging on her arm and her hands were in her muff. In his attempt to get possession of the bag the robber dragged the frightened woman into the alley off of Pearl street. Her cries attracted the attention of the family of C. H. Potter, who went to her assistance but the robber had disappeared in the darkness. Mr. Potter notified the police. Mrs. McCullough told the police that the bag contained $4 in money and other articles.

GERMANY

OFFICIALLY ADMITS THAT STEINBACH WAS CAPTURED BY THE FRENCH

And That Fighting for Possession of the Village Continues—Artillery Combats Reported.

(Associated Press Telegram) Berlin, Jan. 4.—(By Wireless to London).—Steinbach, the Alsation town on the heights between Thann and Sennheim for which desperate fighting has been going on for several days was officially admitted by the German headquarters statement today to have been captured by the French.

The French also took possession of the heights to the west of Sennheim, but the Germans in a counter-attack with the bayonet, succeeded in regaining the position. The text of the communication follows:

"In the western theatre of the war, except for a more or less heavy artillery combat along the front, it was generally quiet.

"Only near Thann, Alsace, did the enemy show great activity. After an overwhelming bombardment of the heights to the west of Sennheim, the enemy succeeded during the afternoon in capturing our demolished trenches on these heights and in connection therewith the village of Steinbach, which we stubbornly defended, and which frequently had been mentioned in our reports during the last few days.

"Their heights were retaken during the night after a bayonet attack. Fighting for the village of Steinbach continues.

"In the eastern theatre of the war the situation is unchanged. Our attacks in Poland, to the east of the Rawke river, continue.

Truthful Description.

A missionary was returning to Basel from Patagonia, bringing with him for the purposes of science a collection of Patagonian skulls. The custom-house officers opened the chest and informed the owner that the consignment must be classed as animal bones and taxed at so much the pound.

The missionary was indignant. So the officials agreed to reconsider. When the way-bill had been revised, it appeared in the following form:

"Chest of native skulls. Personal effects, already worn."—New York Evening Post.

FIRST ALARM OF 1915 SATURDAY, A SCARE ONLY

The first alarm of the new year was telephoned to headquarters Saturday about 6 o'clock when some one living in the vicinity of the Wyck Manufacturing company in Columbia street near Tenth saw flames shooting from the smoke stack. The engineer was burning shavings under the boiler. Fearing a serious blaze, Fire Chief Bausch ordered both trucks from headquarters, the West Newark and North Newark companies to the scene. The services of the firemen were not needed as there was no fire. All the trucks experienced difficulty in getting over the icy streets. The heavy vehicles skidded from one side of the street to the other and in some cases the tail end of the truck slid into the gutters. It required careful driving to prevent an accident.

The headquarters apparatus had hardly returned to the station when the second alarm of the new year was telephoned in from the Brilliant store in South Third street. An explosion of "snot" in a chimney blew a fine "stopper" from a stove pipe hole in a room on the third floor. Burning snot set fire to several rolls of matting which were slightly damaged. Several buckets of water had the fire extinguished before the firemen arrived. The East Newark company had not reached its quarters when the second alarm was received. They turned in East Main street and came back to the square, but the services of the firemen were not required.

PURITY

A burglar entered the residence of Samuel Hamilton Sunday, while the family was at church, and stole $3. There was a larger sum of money in another room, but the thief failed to find it. The residence of George Popham was entered the same day and some articles of jewelry taken. A short, heavily-built man, dressed in a suit of brown clothing, was seen in that vicinity about the time these burglaries were committed. He called at the home of George Tavenor, and later at John Hunt's residence, and inquired for a man named Edward Norton. No such man is known here. It is thought the thief went to Uida and escaped by way of the railroad. Several tramps and suspicious looking characters have been seen in this neighborhood lately.

PROSPECT

IS BRIGHT FOR IMPROVEMENT IN CONDITIONS ALONG THE B. & O. LINES.

Mt. Clare Shops to Open Soon and Others Will Follow—Resume of Past Years With Roads.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 1.—When 1914 is written into history as the most eventful year in the annals of civilization, it likewise will take its place in the record of commerce as a period which witnessed an unprecedented decline in trade the world over. Following the outbreak of war in Europe and the abrupt suspension of international business, there came a depression so complete as to necessitate a readjustment of the economic affairs of all nations so general as to be reflected indelibly in all branches of industry. In such economic readjustment each human being is called upon to participate in the burden imposed but to what extent remains to be determined by the duration of hostilities on the continent.

As a result of the war in Europe the products of American industry are unable to reach the markets abroad due partly to a lack of ocean transportation since many of the merchant vessels flying flags were commandeered or naval maneuvers. Therefore it has been difficult to find an outlet for commodities other than those shipped to Europe in large quantities, but even grain shipments have been below normal owing to the lack of ship.

Where the stagnant state of trade has struck a telling blow has been to the railroad, whose earnings fell off heavily with the interruption of foreign trade. On the face of this falling off in the carriers' expected income, the carriers expected a high margin of profit and a large outgo toward the maintenance of the eastern roads. To relieve the Interstate Commerce commission for permission to advance freight rates approximately 3 percent. In a decision made public July 29, an advance in certain rates was granted to the group of roads operating between Pittsburgh and the Mississippi river. The increase in revenue thus allowed was so small a part of what was required to strengthen the financial standing of the roads, that a second petition was made to the Interstate Commerce commission and the case reopened for reconsideration. As the year drew to a close a second award was made by the regulating agency of the government whereby the advance was extended to the eastern roads, with the exception of certain bulk commodities. Railroad officials estimate that the increase in rates will amount to between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 a year.

The result of the increase granted by the Interstate Commerce commission has inspired more confidence in railroad circles; and while those who represented the carriers in the movement feel that the award was not all that should have been allowed, its ultimate effect will be far-reaching in bringing about closer working relations between the carriers and regulating bodies.

During 1914 the Baltimore and Ohio management deferred to a large extent the consideration of plans involving the future requirements of its growing business. While attention centered with the taking care of the present, the Baltimore and Ohio in the face of many difficulties carried to completion a program of betterments begun five years ago when Daniel Willard became president of the road. This program involved an expenditure of approximately $100,000,000 for extra tracks providing a three-track and four-track system over the Allegheny mountains on two main lines; reducing grades, removing curves, adding new cars and engines to the equipment and providing enlarged terminals and new station buildings.

While the program of Baltimore and Ohio improvements was being concluded the upbuilding of equipment of the company continued without interruption. During 1914 there were purchased 59 freight locomotives known as the Centipede type, in addition to which 4,000 box cars were rebuilt and equipped with steel underframes and center sills. Thus, the road raised its standard of equipment to 82 per cent steel. Taking advantage of the opportunity to repair its equipment during a period of business inactivity, the repair forces were kept at work in the shops putting the cars and locomotives in first-class condition for the future.

In this way the road was able to keep a large percentage of its working forces employed when enforced idleness seemed imminent.

Toward the close of the year it became necessary to reduce the working forces as the repair work neared completion and the necessity of reducing expenses in line with a decline in revenue became imperative; but it has been announced that the Mount Clare shops at Baltimore employing 3,000 mechanics and workmen will be opened soon after January 1, 1915.

CONFERENCE

ON IMMIGRATION BILL WILL BE ASKED BY HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Senate Passed Measure Including Two Amendments—President May Veto the Bill.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, Jan. 4.—The immigration bill containing the restrictive literacy test, for admission of aliens went back to the house today for its action following passage of the measure in the senate by an overwhelming majority. The bill passed the house eleven months ago today.

A conference with the senate of the bill was to be asked for today by the house. The senate amended the house measure in several particulars and these will be the subject of adjustment between the two houses. While administration leaders were confident today that the senate amendments would be accepted and be ready for President Wilson signature by Wednesday or Thursday, at least two of the amendments are expected to cause considerable discussion. One would exempt Belgian farmers from the literacy test, and prohibit Americans from inducing or aiding immigration. The other would exclude persons of the African race, or of negro blood.

The ultimate fate of the bill still was problematical today. While President Wilson has indicated he would veto the bill if it should come to him with the literacy test included, Democratic supporters of the measure were of the opinion today that he would sign it because of the other reforms which it contains.

Leaders on both sides of the capitol expressed the belief that the bill could be passed over a veto in both houses. The vote in the senate, 57 for to 7 against the bill, was taken to indicate that it could be passed should it be rejected by the president. The measure passed the house by a vote of 211 to 126, being only five votes short of a two-thirds majority.

FARM HAND

KILLS FELLOW EMPLOYEE AND EMPLOYER AND THEN COM-MITS SUICIDE.

Details of Vermont Tragedy Given by one of the Victims Before His Death.

(Associated Press Telegram)
St. Johnsbury, Vt., Jan. 4.—J. Douglas London, a farm hand, formerly employed by Charles Wheaton, shot and killed Will Lane, a fellow employee and Mrs. Wheaton, and then committed suicide today. It is believed London was insane.

Details of the tragedy, supplied by Lane in a statement before he died, by a four-year-old daughter of Mrs. Wheaton and by Mr. James Kilburn, with whom London boarded, indicated that London, armed with a rifle, went to the Wheaton farm during Mr. Wheaton's absence. Lane fled to the barn on hearing London's announcement that he intended to kill, and received a bullet through the abdomen when London fired through the door. London then entered the house and pursued Mrs. Wheaton toward a front room. His first shot missed but as the woman closed a door, London fired through the panel and the bullet pierced Mrs. Wheaton's heart. Returning home, London told Mrs. Kilburn that he had killed Mrs. Wheaton and Lane and ordered her to give the alarm, as he was going to kill himself.

After Mrs. Kilburn had fled, London went into the barn and shot himself through the head.

"Most Beautiful Girl In the World," and Fiance.

Miss Marie Teller, declared by Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, cousin of the czar, who is something of a connoisseur to be the "most beautiful girl in the world," has announced her engagement. In a few months she will wed S. Bryce Wing, a New York society man. Grand Duke Michaelovitch saw Miss Teller in Newport last summer and it was then to members of society that he stated his belief that the young woman was the most beautiful in the world.

Miss Teller was formally introduced to society a year ago this winter, although she had been out in Newport during the summer of that year. She has been greatly in demand at social gatherings and as a bridesmaid at some of the prominent weddings of the last two seasons. She is a granddaughter, on her mother's side, of Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, U. S. N. (retired), her mother having been Miss Marie Stirling, one of the beauties of her day of Baltimore, Md., where her father, Admiral Stirling, now lives.

The Courts

Cross-Examination.
In the case of Philip Eswine vs. Philip B. Smythe, the defendant has filed a cross petition in which he claims that the plaintiff was asleep in a wagon when it approached Hawley's Corners and which resulted in a collision with defendant's auto, badly wrecking the machine and killing the plaintiff's horses.

In the defendant's cross petition he also charges that the plaintiff failed to take warning of the approach of the automobile, said warning being given by sounding of a horn and the bright lights which were burning on the front of the automobile; that as a consequence of plaintiff driving on the wrong side of the road defendant's car was damaged to the extent of $700; that as a result of collision defendant was badly bruised, two ribs were fractured, his face and head were cut and bruised, one of his ears was torn apart and his nose was disfigured and that he suffered for three weeks all in the damage to him of $10,000, and that he was compelled to pay a doctor bill of $75.

Mr. Smythe in his cross petition asks judgment against plaintiff in the sum of $10,775.

Divorce Petition.
Nellie McCracken has brought suit against William McCracken in the common pleas court. The petition alleges that they were married October 12, 1910, and that they are the parents of one child, a daughter aged three years. She charges defendant with abandonment and non-support and alleges that he abused her by striking and beating her and that he also kicked her and that he has been an habitual drunkard for more than three years. She asks for alimony, the custody of their child and all proper relief.

Through the many changes reported, and which have taken place in the political and military staffs of the Kaiser since the war began, there have been no rumors that the chancellor or reichkanzler, as the Germans call him, is not in the highest favor. The entry of England into the war and the hard fight of Belgium have not been blamed on him.

The Governor's Message.

Governor Cox in his message read to the eighty-first general assembly immediately after it convened in Columbus today, made special pleas for continuation of the state budget system and greater care in making all appropriations for guarding of the essential features of the workmen's compensation law, for further progress in the good roads and improved school movements and for encouragement of greater co-operation among the three state universities.

He urged the erection of a state office building, a governor's mansion, and more dormitories for women at the universities.

The message contained nearly 6000 words and was read to both houses by the clerks; reviewed the administration of the last two years, laying special emphasis on fiscal reforms and the present large cash balance. More than half the message was devoted to consideration of the state's financial condition. It may be read in full in today's Advocate.

The message is in keeping with the governor's well-known policies, and is a paper which reflects much credit upon its author. There is not a sentence which betrays any feeling of personal bitterness over his defeat, but it shows a spirit of broad-minded solicitude about the welfare of the state.

General Jackson.

When General Jackson was 47 years old, he was comparatively an unknown man. He was commissioned to restore peace with the warring Indians of the southeast and one victory after another was successively achieved. In other parts of the country, the American army was losing ground. Our government at Washington was falling to pieces. On Aug. 24, the English captured Washington and burned many public buildings and President Madison and wife were driven out of the city.

The man of the hour was Andrew Jackson. The energy manifested by him was contagious. He made the utmost of all the means he possessed and devised substitutes for what he lacked. His soldiers felt capable of performing anything he ordered. If he expressed a wish or threw out the slightest intimation, a crowd of volunteers would offer their services to carry his views into execution. No wonder he was sent to New Orleans.

The story of the battle of New Orleans is a strange one indeed. Nearly everything fell out favorably for Jackson as if by magic. The two armies built redoubts out of the same mud and cannonaded each other all day through dense smoke, and at night the English works were torn to pieces while the American works were scarcely damaged.

On the next day, Jan. 8, 1815, the English made their grand assault, but were repulsed with great slaughter. Over 2000 of the well drilled English officers and men were killed, wounded and missing, while Jackson's loss was seven killed and six wounded.

This was seemingly a needless battle for the treaty of peace had been signed at Ghent, Dec. 24, 1814, some two weeks before this battle, but the news had not reached this country.

General Jackson surprised the world, for a brilliant victory was the last thing any one had expected to hear of from New Orleans.

The Jackson banquet to be held Friday evening in Moose hall, Hibbert & Schaus building, has every promise of being a most interesting and profitable affair. Education and history will enter very largely into the evening program. A somewhat mistaken idea prevails that Jackson's record and influence were largely along military lines. This is not true.

In studying the character and rugged virtues of Jackson, our thoughts must soar far above New Orleans. We must consider the influence that he exerted as president, statesman, and private citizen.

The program for Friday evening is one of the strongest arranged for any Ohio city for the Jackson Day banquets. Ex-governor Campbell, Attorney Bolin, and Judge Douglass, are all brainy, brilliant speakers and are worth hearing.

Concerning Birthdays.

President Wilson has just celebrated his 58th birthday anniversary. Many congressmen and other public officials called. There were telegrams and letters of congratulation. The day was a public occasion.

In private life birthdays are intimate and even secluded. Birthday parties are reserved to the young and the old. In middle life quiet home notice is taken. But confidence and efforts at cheerful philosophy are in the air.

The refusal of women to give their age to the census taker is a periodic joke. It is due for its perihelion again at the next national count in 1920. Many women leave unfiled blanks for age required in some legal documents, even though entertaining qualms that it may invalidate the paper.

Some women carry this feeling beyond the grave. Every newspaper reporter remembers cases where the relatives would not tell the age of the deceased. They felt the number of the growing years was a life long regret and that it would have been her wish to have their enumeration omitted. A reporter recognizes that any woman's age is news. But being human, he usually suppresses the unpleasant truth.

Men are less sensitive on this point. But you never throw out hints to learn which birthday it is. In some towns the printed lists of voters or taxpayers tell each man's age. In such cases this literature is read with keen attention, particularly among the unmated element of womankind.

If public men have anything of this feeling they never show it. Their birthdays are public property. They have to get over such minor human weaknesses as this. So when a president has a birthday, it is to be assumed that he looks at it aright. It is not a time of regret for years that are passed. Rather is it an occasion for joy, over results achieved, perils escaped.

In view of the emphatic protests of our government, it is believed that the powers of Europe will at least allow hymn books to be exported as not contraband.

A number of congressmen honored President Wilson on his birthday by calling at the White House and asking for jobs for constituents.

In view of the fact that no women and children were killed in the latest airship raids in Europe, they will no doubt be considered failures.

It is claimed the railroad dining cars are losing money. Also the people who eat in them lose some.

After burning up all of the January 1 bills, many people feel it is indeed a Happy New Year.

The most popular of the New Year's resolutions is to resolve not to make any.

Taking Stock.

(Saturday Evening Post.)
Belligerents are buying army supplies in this country at the rate of several million dollars a day; but that is a temporary thing. Meantime they are steadily burning up the resources that normally would be used to buy our goods next year and the year after. There is a sort of tradition that it is every good American's first duty always to seize on any favorable fact he can find and beat a loud tom-tom with it to the tune of Boom! Boom! Boom!

We do not think the country cares much for that tune just now however. It strikes us as being in a notably sober frame of mind. The high nervous tension of last August has very decidedly relaxed. Business is improving and the outlook is brighter. There is no touch of panic; no particular fear. We seem to feel quite snug and tight all round—and quite sober. We have settled down to a steady, long, strong pull. Business in the United States is seldom in equilibrium. It is either rushing up or tumbling. It is doing neither now, and there is probably a widespread feeling that this is a good time for the United States to take stock of itself all round—cut out follies, reduce wastes, tighten up loose screws and get the machine in the best order we know how. Probably a great many of us have that sort of feeling about national activities in general, if a great many of us apply it to our own personal activities we shall get some important results.

Look on her soft, bright countenance and if you speedily turn your gaze and look down on the mud and the rotting weeds, you lack the celestial spirit. P. S.—Six o'clock is time enough to woo Venus. She is then high up in the sky, waiting for you.—Ohio State Journal.

Jackson Day Speech.

It is announced that on Jackson day, January 8, President Wilson will fire a few hot shots into his critics in a speech at Indianapolis. Woodrow loves a fight no less than Old Hickory, and he has chosen an opportune time for returning the enemy's fire. History tells us that in the battle of New Orleans the English fell in heaps before the well-directed bullets of the Americans entrenched behind their breastworks of cotton bales. A good many G. O. P. lies, misrepresentations and hypocritical assumptions are likely to fall before the president's shafts next Friday.—Philadelphia Record.

A Pious Hope.

David Starr Jordan's prediction that the war may end by April 1 expresses a pious hope. Dr. Jordan says that the "suffering millions will demand peace." Perhaps. But the capacity of the millions to suffer will not necessarily be exhausted by a nine months' war. Millions have suffered for years without demanding peace. Again, as the war goes on the millions themselves may become more and more infected with its violent passions. All we can see today is that the nations continue to arm; that one of the greatest involved has not quite finished preparing for its great effort by land; that none of the combatants is, on the surface at least, anywhere near exhaustion, and that suggestions of peace are firmly rejected in all quarters.—Chicago Herald.

Purgatory.

Dr. Dellinger, at the Bonn Conference in 1875, said: "Purgatory, as a burning-away of sins, was an idea unknown in the East as well as the West till Gregory the Great introduced it. He added the idea of a tormenting fire. This the schoolmen gradually converted into doctrine, which they associated with papal indulgence till it came to apply to the dead generally, which, of course, made it seek indulgence. It went on to have degrees; some could receive indulgence for a few of their sins, others for all, and so on; so that eventually the pope, having already the keeping of heaven and the dominion on earth, obtained also sovereignty under the earth." Such is the history of the beginning of purgatory as a papal doctrine.

How to Manage a Man.

When you marry him, love him. After you marry him, study him. If he is honest, honor him. If he is generous, appreciate him. When he is sad, cheer him. When he is cross, amuse him. When he is talkative, listen to him. When he is quarrelsome, ignore him. If he is confidential, encourage him. If he is secretive, trust him. If he is jealous, coax him. If he is capricious, cure him. If he is nervous, soothe him. If he is vain, flatter him. If he is avaricious, accompany him. If he does you a favor, thank him. When he deserves it, kiss him. Let him think how well you understand him, but never let him know that you "manage" him.—From an English vicar's advice to young persons.

Pointed Observations

Most of the newspapers have agreed with our conclusions about the Frank case. A few have differed.—Colliers Weekly.

Uncle Sam carried 100,000,000 Christmas packages and feels that he thus helped to make the world happier.—Chicago News.

A revolutionary effort is being made in Mexico to increase the President's term to six weeks.—Denison (Tex.) Herald.

If in an outburst of generosity Uncle Sam had dropped independence into the Philippine stocking it wouldn't have broken any hearts or pockets on this continent, excepting those of the armament men.—Detroit Journal.

"Prudence and energetic measures" is General Villa's new program. Let us hope that he will find a way to reconcile them.—Springfield Republican.

When a man espouses the cause of the militant suffragettes he makes a lot of enemies for them.—Washington Herald.

William H. Taft is making himself highly useful by injecting allopathic doses of horse sense into the argument about the outlook for war and the need of making each taxpayer purchase a "busy Bertha."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Snap Shots

When a man starts "south," his destination sometimes is as far as Lancaster.

ALWAYS BUSY.

I called on James Augustus Jinks, a carpenter of fame, to make a pair of kitchen sinks, and mend a quilling frame. "I cannot come right now," he said, "your little chores to do; I have so much work ahead, the end is not in view. My time for weeks ahead is filled, I'm wanted everywhere; I have all sorts of shacks to build, and others to repair." A hundred workmen in the town are saying times are bad; they say they chase all chances down, and cannot earn a scad. And if perchance one gets a job, he works not with his might, but talks of how employers rob the poor man left and right. If he is chopping down a tree, his strokes are soft and slow; he fears to make a noise lest he won't hear the whistle blow. He does as little as he can throughout his working day, but he's an energetic man w'ym calling for his pay. I don't believe that any gent who works with might and main, intent on earning every cent, has reason to complain. The world will hunt him to his lair to hire his skill and vim; he doesn't seek work in despair, for work is seeking him.

A very delightful surprise watch party was given at the home of Goldie Imhoff in South Second street by her friends in honor of her fifteenth birthday anniversary January first. The New Year was ushered in with music and games, and at a late hour a two course luncheon was served. The guests were: Misses Anna Wheeler, Marion Roser, Amy Storz, Grace Looker, Dorothy Halderman, Ethel Stasel, Hilda Schmitt, Messrs Ralph McLaughlin, Theodore Bodie, Howard Workman, Allen Houck, Geo. One of the most delightful of the social events of holiday week was the thimble party and luncheon given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. A. T. Bazler at her home in North Fifth street, honoring Mrs. H. E. Hoyman of Somerset, O., and Mrs. Minnie Shaw of New York City. The affair was in harmony with the yuletide season, red and green being the color scheme. Late in the afternoon a guessing contest took the place of the busy needles and pleasant conversation, the honors falling to Mrs. Hoyman, Mrs. Mitchell and Mrs. Gabke, each of whom received beautiful rewards for efficiency.

At 4:30 the guests were invited to the dining room, where each found her place by means of unique Christmas place cards. The two long tables were beautiful in their decorations of candelabra with red tapers, and intertwined with smilax, individual tapers also marking each place. An elaborate turkey dinner was served in five courses to the following ladies: Messrs. Hoyman, Shaw, U. K. Essington, J. V. Hilliard, B. S. Winkler, A. S. Stephan, Edward Rentfrew, C. L. Sturgeon, H. HUSBANDS AWAIT BRIDES WHOM THEY HAVE NEVER SEEN

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

San Francisco, Jan. 4.—The scores of "picturesque brides" who will cross the Pacific from Japan during 1915 to embark on matrimonial seas with the husbands they never have seen, will, on reaching Angel Island immigration station place their affairs in the hands of Dr. B. C. Haworth, whose appointment as secretary to the Japanese Association of America was announced Saturday. Before leaving Japan a register marriage is performed by the government. This consists of transferring the bride's name to the register containing that of the bridegroom. She then is supplied with a photograph of her husband and after a physical examination is given a passport.

In the meantime the husband in America has received a photograph of his approaching bride and is informed of the date of her arrival.

Dr. Haworth, in his new capacity will see that the exchange of photographs is made correctly and that each man gets his own wife. The bridegroom is obliged to show a certificate issued by the Japanese consulate that he financially is able to support a wife.

These formalities disposed of, an American ceremony is performed. Dr. Haworth has been interpreter at Angel Island since 1907.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS TO BE KNOWN BY NAME INSTEAD OF NUMBER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
New York, Jan. 4.—The public schools of New York city are soon to be designated by name instead of by number, as at present.

Names to displace the numbers have been prepared and soon will be submitted to the board of education for adoption. The names were selected by a committee of the board of superintendents of the board of education and will be applied to both grammar and elementary schools.

If the list is adopted as prepared, public school No. 1, at Henry, Catherine and Oliver streets, which is the direct descendant of New York's first free school, will be known as Chatham Square school. No. 2 at No. 116 Henry street, will be known as Patrick Henry school, and No. 4, at Pitt Ridge and Rivington streets, will take the name of English statesman, William Pitt.

Pike Assessment Petition.

The Ohio Electric Railway company Saturday filed a petition in Clerk Bert O. Horton's office against the county commissioners, county auditor and county treasurer, asking for an injunction and restraining order against the defendants levying or collecting pike assessments against plaintiff's property adjacent to the Newark and Zanesville pike. Judge T. B. Fulton granted a temporary injunction requiring a temporary assessment of $200.

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

Look years younger! Use the old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and nobody will know.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance with a few days. Agents, Hall's drug store.

WORLD-WIDE AUTOCRACY IS COMING AND NEAR

It Will Be an Exclusive and Aristocratic Monarchy.

Pastor Russell Describes the Fifth Universal Empire of Earth—The Reign of Sin and Death Shall Be Overthrown. Humanity Will Be Uplifted From Ignorance and Superstition—Calling the Elect the Work of the Gospel Age. The Future Royal Family—Instructed and Polished For Their Exaltation. Messiah's Kingdom a Theocracy.

(PASTOR RUSSELL)

New York City, Jan. 3.—Pastor Russell addressed a large audience tonight at the New York City Temple, W. 63d St. and Broadway. His text was, "For He must reign, till He hath put all enemies under His feet." (1 Corinthians 15:25.) He said in part:

Many of us have learned to appreciate a republican form of government as the very highest type of civil administration. I trust that I am not one whit behind the most patriotic of you in my appreciation of the great Government of these United States, which many of us believe is the noblest that has yet risen amongst men. Nevertheless, the Bible teaches that Messiah's Reign will be that of a monarchy; and not only so, but that it will be a very exclusive and aristocratic monarchy. Additionally, it will be most autocratic—theocratic; for the will of its subjects will not be consulted in the slightest particular.

At first, in alarm, we are ready to say, "Would not that be a most dangerous condition of things? Could any royal family, however noble and generous, be entrusted with such autocratic power without fear of its being misused for the enslavement of the people, for the aggrandizement of the rulers? Have we not learned this in the history of the past six thousand years? Do we not see the necessity for curtailing and controlling the powers of kings and governors? Are we not more and more brought to realize the necessity that the people shall rule, whether in Congress or in Parliament, in Doumas or in Chambers of Deputies?"

Yes, my dear friends, I heartily accede to all this; but when I shall describe to you the nature of the Kingdom that is to be established, and its personnel, all your fears will assuredly flee, and you will rejoice exceedingly that the Divine arrangement is what it is in respect to the theocratic Kingdom shortly to be established and to take over the government of the world.

Scripturally it is described as the Fifth Universal Empire of earth. I remind you of the Divinely inspired dream of King Nebuchadnezzar, as interpreted by the Prophet Daniel. It was of an image majestic, grand. The head of the image was Nebuchadnezzar's own kingdom at Babylon, the first to rule over the earth. Next, represented in the breast and the arms of silver, came Medo-Persia, the second Universal Empire of earth, the conqueror of Babylon. Next, represented in the belly and thighs of the image, came Greece, the third Universal Empire of earth, which conquered Medo-Persia. Next, represented in the legs of iron, came Rome, the fourth Universal Empire, conqueror of Greece.

There are to be no more until Messiah's Kingdom; it will be the fifth. Meantime, we have had two attempts at a fifth monarchy, both unsuccessful. One of these attempts was by the Papacy; the other was that of Napoleon I. During this time the present divisions, which resulted from the breaking up of the Roman Empire, are represented by the feet of the image, with their ten toes.

Smiting the Image's Feet.

The prophecy declares (Daniel 2:44) that in the days of these kings, represented by the toes of the image, the God of Heaven will set up a Kingdom, which shall subdue all kingdoms and which shall never be overthrown. It shall "be given to the people, saints, of the Most High God, and they shall take the Kingdom and possess it forever, even forever and ever." (Daniel 7:18, 27.) In the picture God's Kingdom is symbolically represented as a great stone, hewn from the mountain without hands—supernaturally. It shall smite the image in its feet; and forthwith "the iron, the brass, the silver and the gold shall become like the chaff of a threshing floor, and the wind shall carry it away"; but the Mountain shall increase until "it shall fill the whole earth."

Thus in a figure, or symbol, God pictures things now shortly to come to pass. This crushing of the feet of the image was to come in the end of the Age, and would be the preparatory step to the establishment of Messiah's Kingdom. So long as these governments would be here, they and Messiah's Kingdom could not co-operate. The Gentile powers are based on selfishness and coercion; Christ's Kingdom will be based on justice, love, mercy, under the Prince of Peace.

The present terrible war is not the great Time of Trouble in the fullest sense of the word, but merely its forerunner. The great Time of Trouble of the Scriptures will be brought on by anarchy—the general uprising of the people: "Every man's hand against his neighbor, no peace to him that zech out or to him that cometh in." (Zechariah 8:10, 11:13.) Our thought is that this great war will weaken the nations, cripple the world financially, discredit the rulers, and thus open the way for anarchy.

Rome and Constantinople stand for, represent, the two legs of the image which King Nebuchadnezzar saw; for he remembered that each in turn was the Roman Capital and representative of the image. We are certainly justified in watching with considerable interest the present war and what it may be leading to in the way of involving all the ten kingdoms represented in this prophecy.

But that is not the special point of interest in my subject; rather, I am discussing the character of Messiah's Kingdom, which is to rule the world, overthrow Sin and Death, and uplift humanity from ignorance, superstition, sin, weakness and death. The declaration is that Messiah shall reign until He shall have put down all insubordination, and that the last enemy to be destroyed will be death.—1 Cor. 15:25, 26.

This is the Kingdom for which the Master Himself taught His followers to pray. Nothing slight or insignificant will be the outcome of that glorious Messianic Reign of a thousand years. At its very beginning Satan will be bound, with all that this signifies—the repression of evil and darkness. For a thousand years the Sun of Righteousness shall pour forth the light of truth and grace upon our poor, fallen race until the knowledge of God's glory shall fill the whole earth as the waters cover the great deep.

Eventually all wilful opponents of that Kingdom will die the Second Death, from which there will be no redemption, no recovery. But meantime, all the willing and obedient will be rising, not only from the tomb, but also out of all the weaknesses and frailties of the present time, up, up, up, to the fulness of perfection of life, although they will not live again in this perfect sense until the thousand years shall be finished. With the close of the Reign of Righteousness, after it shall have accomplished its work of delivering the groaning creation from the bondage of corruption, sin and death, Messiah will abdicate the Throne; as it is written, "He will deliver up the Kingdom to God, even the Father, that He may be all in all."—1 Cor. 15:24.

No More Sighing, Crying, Dying.

What a glorious triumph that will be when every creature in Heaven and earth, and under the earth, shall be heard saying, Praise, glory, honor, dominion and might be unto Him that sitteth upon the Throne, and unto the Lamb, forever! (Revelation 5:13.) What a glorious condition will then obtain when there shall be no more crying, no more sighing, no more dying; for all the former things shall have passed away! Ah, He that sitteth upon the Throne said, "Behold, I make all things new!" Glad we are that our great Messiah is about to overthrow sin and evil, about to establish righteousness on a permanent and everlasting foundation, which will insure that to all eternity God's will shall be done as perfectly on earth as it is done in Heaven.

I ask you to consider candidly—you need not reply—Is there a kingdom in the world today that in your judgment fitly represents a Divine government amongst men? Is there a perfect government, is there a single spot in all the earth where God's will is done as it is done in Heaven? You are conversant with history. You know the bloody record which marks its pages. You know that so-called Christian Europe has been drenched with blood more than any other part of the world. You know that the cause of wrong has triumphed as often or oftener than the cause of right. You know that today these kingdoms of Europe, styled kingdoms of God, are destroying one another. You know that great guns, great battleships and monster torpedoes, etc., such as the world has never known before, have been prepared by these various nations for use, either aggressively or defensively, against one another, while they all claim to be Christ's kingdoms. Is this logical? Is this rational? Most assuredly not!

We must go to the Bible for true information on this subject. It tells us that these kingdoms are not the kingdoms of God, but "kingdoms of this world." It tells us that Satan is the Prince of this world (John 14:30; Ephesians 2:2); that he is "the god of this world," "that now worketh in the hearts of the children of disobedience"—so much more numerous than the children of obedience that he through them holds the world's control.

But with equal clearness the Bible declares the Divine Power and mastery over Satan—that he and his reign of Sin and Death are permitted of God for a limited time and for a special purpose. The testimony tells us that when the due time shall come Messiah shall take His great power and reign, and then Satan shall be bound and all the forces of sin and darkness be restrained. Then the Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in its beams to flood the earth with the light of the knowledge of the glory of God.

"The Election Hath Obtained It."

Come with me and take a cursory view of God's great work thus far accomplished. For more than two thousand years God gave no clear intimation of what He intended to do for the fallen race. Then He made a statement to Abraham, so clear, so explicit, that St. Paul declares that it was a statement of the Gospel in advance. God said to Abraham, I purpose to bless the world. This could only mean, I purpose to relieve them of the curse of death which came upon them through Adam's sin. God added to Abraham, This blessing which I will bring to all the families of the earth will come through your posterity—"In thee and in thy Seed shall all the families of the earth be blessed."

God's due time for bringing this blessing was still future; the blessing could not come until Messiah should come; but meantime God gave to the natural seed of Abraham, through Moses, the Law Covenant, which offered them eternal life and an inheritance in the Kingdom if they could keep the Law. Of course, they could not keep the Law; for it was the measure of a perfect man's ability, and alas! like the remainder of the world the Israelites were imperfect—sinners. Nevertheless they were brought them great uplift of heart, so that when Jesus came to them a considerable number were ready to receive Him, did receive Him; and He received them. They became sons of God, through the begetting of the Holy Spirit, at Pentecost and afterward. These were the Spiritual Seed of Abraham, begotten of the Holy Spirit. Jesus Himself being the Head.

Israel had been hoping for a share in Messiah's Kingdom; and St. Paul explains, "Israel hath not obtained that which he seeketh for, but the Election hath obtained it, and the rest were blinded." The blinded Israelites are still cast aside, but not forever. The Divine blessing shall come to Natural Israel just as soon as Spiritual Israel shall be completed.—Rom. 11:25-34.

The Kingdom Suffereth Violence.

What did the Election obtain? Of what did the faithful "Israelites indeed" become heirs by accepting Jesus and by the Pentecostal blessing? We answer that they became identified with Messiah's Kingdom and heirs, or inheritors, of the glorious Promise made to Abraham, that in this Kingdom all the families of the earth should be blessed. But now note that there were not a sufficient number of Jews found worthy to complete the Kingdom class. The Kingdom therefore could not be inaugurated then. God had foreseen this and through the Prophet had promised that some would be gathered from the Gentiles to complete this Kingdom class. The entire work of the Gospel Age has been the calling of this "elect" class for the Kingdom. If we have rightly viewed the matter, the foreordained number will soon have been found, the election will be at an end, the accepted will be glorified as the Kingdom, and Messiah's Reign of Righteousness will begin.

But notice now the course of all belonging to the Kingdom class, throughout this Age. They are not reigning with Christ, but suffering with Christ. Jesus explained this; they are indeed of the Royal Family, because begotten of the Holy Spirit; they are indeed the Kingdom class, because they are affiliated with the great King; but they have not yet entered into their glory. They will do so only by the power of the First Resurrection. Thus it is written, "We must all be changed," because "flesh and blood cannot inherit the Kingdom of God."

Our Lord Himself was the Pattern, the Forerunner of all these. After His consecration and His begetting of the Holy Spirit, He was tested unto death, even the death of the cross, before He experienced His glorious resurrection change and ascended and sat down at the right hand of the Majesty on High. Similarly all of His followers, after consecration, must be tested, their loyalty must be proven, before they can share with Him in "His Resurrection."

Partly for the testing of these, their development takes place in a time when Satan is the Prince of this world, and when his power is permitted to be exercised against them as it was exercised against their Lord. The message to these is, "The Kingdom suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force." As our Lord suffered violence from the Prince of this world, so will His followers; for "the disciple is not above his Lord." His promise to His followers is, "Be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life."—Revelation 2:10.

"The World Knoweth Us Not."

So then we perceive that God's Kingdom class, the followers of Jesus, have been suffering violence, just as did their Leader, for righteousness' sake. That the persecutors had not known and done their evil work intentionally, St. Peter intimates when he says to the Jews, "I wot that in ignorance ye did it, as did also your rulers; for if they had known, they would not have crucified the Prince of Life." Hence, in due time their blindness shall be turned away, and they will look upon Him whom they pierced and mourn (Zechariah 12:10); and God will pour upon them the spirit of prayer and supplication, and forgive them and make the experience profitable to us as may as shall prove willing.

Meantime, for eighteen centuries, the Scriptures declare, "The world knoweth us not, even as it knew Him not." God's saints only have not been generally the great, the influential, either in church or state, just as Jesus and the Apostles were not in their day. Nevertheless, the Lord knoweth them that are His. Scattered here and there, during the past eighteen centuries, He has been dealing with them, preparing them, polishing them, fitting them as jewels. And He tells us that at our Lord's Second Coming He will make up His jewels—they will constitute the Kingdom class; for "if we suffer with Him, we shall also reign with Him."

I am sure you will agree with me that those whom the Lord has been so carefully selecting, instructing and polishing in the School of Christ, who have been so effectively polished with the trials and disciplines of evil, will be the very class above all others to whom the glorious dominion of earth may well be entrusted without fear. Only those thoroughly bent to God and to principle will be in that class.

HORSE

IS STILL KING OF BEASTS AND OUTSTRIPS THE AUTOMOBILE
IN OHIO

Valuation of Former for Taxation
Nearly Three Times as Great as the Latter in 1914.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Jan. 3.—The horse is not only king of beasts, in Ohio considering the amount of money invested in various classes of domestic animals, but the equine can give a "horse laugh" to those who boast that the automobile has outstripped him.

To prove this right to the crown, the horse can cite records in the office of the tax commission of Ohio, which show that the taxable value of all equines on the 1914 grand duplicate amounts to $99,099,174 while the sum for automobiles is but $34,571,302.

Tax figures also dispute the statement of some that the horse industry is going backward and of others that it remains stationary, for since 1913 when the taxable value of all horses was $92,512,504 there has been an increase of approximately $7,600,000. All automobiles in use in Ohio were on the tax duplicate for $25,804,992 in 1913, the 1914 figures showing an increase of $9,000,000.

There are only three counties in the state, Cuyahoga, Hamilton and Franklin, in which the taxable value of automobiles exceed that of the horses. In Cuyahoga county these assessments were made:

Horses $2,193,285 and automobiles $6,170,440. In Hamilton county, horses $1,468,726 and automobiles $2,373,364 and Lucas county, horses $1,096,285 and automobiles $1,462,915.

In Franklin county the race for supremacy between the machine and animal is close, the valuation of horses being $1,883,658 and of automobiles $1,845,808.

Taxable value for sheep in 1913 was $7,193,774 as compared to $7,030,616 for the current year, a loss of $163,000.

Prosperity for the farmers is found in big increases to cattle and hogs, the price of slaughter animals having soared on account of the war. The taxable value of cattle for 1914 is $56,838,769 as compared to $42,716,482 in the previous year, a gain of $14,000,000. The 1914 value of hogs is $17,992,620 as compared to $14,598,240 the previous year. The addition to all farm animals was brought about largely by the enlargement of herds, the value per head remaining in most instances, stationary.

RECIPE TO CLEAR A PIMPLY SKIN

Pimples are Impurities Seeking an Outlet Through Skin Pores.

Pimples, sores and boils usually result from toxins, poisons and impurities which are generated in the bowels and then absorbed into the blood through the very ducts which should absorb only nourishment to sustain the body.

It is the function of the kidneys to filter impurities from the blood and excrete them in the form of urine, but in many instances the bowels create more toxins and impurities than the kidneys can eliminate, then the blood uses the skin pores as the best means of getting rid of these impurities which often break out all over the skin in the form of pimples.

The surest way to clear the skin of these eruptions, says a noted authority, is to get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of hot water each morning before breakfast for one week. This will prevent the formation of toxins in the bowels. It also stimulates the kidneys to normal activity, thus coaxing them to filter the blood of impurities and clearing the skin of pimples.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent drink which usually makes pimples disappear, cleanses the blood and is excellent for the kidneys as well.

CHASSES OF TYPE BUILT FOR EUROPEAN WAR TRUCKS WILL BE SEEN AT CLEVELAND'S AUTOMOBILE SHOW

The 1 1/2 TON ARMY ESCORT TRUCKS

The people of Ohio will be given an opportunity to see the chasses of trucks such as are being manufactured for European armies now at war when the Cleveland automobile show is held January 16 to 23.

Two of Cleveland's biggest automobile factories are working day and night to fill orders from belligerent countries. For diplomatic reasons officials of the companies will not reveal full details in regard to these orders; but without saying for which nations the trucks are intended, chasses of the type being manufactured for army purposes will be made a part of the respective companies' exhibits at the annual Cleveland show.

One of the concerns has been quietly working for weeks and the second received a monster order a short time ago. They immediately doubled their force of workmen and have been employing day and night shifts. The report is that European countries have contracted for practically the entire truck output of these plants for months to come.

SHIPPED FLORIDA FRUIT.

Mrs. Earl Lanning of North Third Street on New Year's day received a fine large box of Florida fruit from her husband, who has charge of a decorating crew at the large resort hotel at Naples in the southwestern part of the state on the gulf. The box consisted of oranges, grape fruits and kumquats and several other species, all of which Mr. Lanning plucked from the groves himself. The fruit was of a delicious flavor, being choice hand-picked of the celebrated products of southern Florida. He writes that they are enjoying surf bathing every day. J. H. Lanning, the well-known painter and decorating contractor of East Main Street in this city, also received a fine box of fruit from his son as a New Year's greeting.

GOV. COX

 taches as designated by Republican and Democratic caucuses.

Even before the assembly formally convened today a movement initiated by Representative W. S. Hoy of Jackson, looking to suspending the present civil service law and immediate enactment of another which would eliminate non-competitive examinations, created much discussion among representatives and senators.

Republican leaders did not look with favor on the proposed measure, but Dr. Hoy conducted an active campaign among members and gave positive assurance that the proposition will be submitted to the legislature either today or tomorrow. A conference was held this afternoon at which leaders tried in vain to dissuade Dr. Hoy from his intention.

"This plan includes the introduction of a joint amendment and of a new civil service bill to substitute for the present law," said Dr. Hoy. "The joint resolution would ask for the suspension of the present civil service law and the appointment of a joint committee of three representatives and three senators to investigate the condition of civil service now. I believe we can find many jobs in the state service which can be abolished. That would be the object of the legislative investigation. It would be a step toward fulfilling our pledge of economy and money-reform made to the people before election."

"The bill which I propose to introduce would eliminate such a preposterous thing as non-competitive examinations, which are allowed under the present law. I would provide that all jobs in the classified service must be filled by competitive tests open to any person, instead of only to the incumbent. It would be a great improvement to the merit system because it would open such examinations to the best men available."

"Someone will sit on that proposition and smother it," said Senator Howard of Belmont, majority leader in the senate. "I am quite sure the joint resolution will not be introduced in this body. We don't want to start such a thing as that until we get Governor Willis' message and hear his views."

Both houses planned to meet in joint session tomorrow to canvass the vote for state officials. Leaders declared adjournment would be taken then until next week, after Governor Willis' inauguration. It was considered unlikely that any business other than routine will be transacted until then.

"Partisanship must be lost to view in consideration of the greatest good to citizens of the state," said Speaker Conover in his address.

"I promise to be fair and impartial and to give every member a chance to be heard. I have a duty to perform for the state which I can do only with the aid of your co-operation."

Conover was elected over Representative John F. Kramer of Richmond, the minority choice for speaker, by a vote of 70 to 48. Representative Kramer explained when the nominating of Speaker Pro Tem Clark and other officers in the house began, that the minority would not offer candidates for these positions. He facetiously remarked that the minority had no names to propose which could cope with the majority's candidates.

Most candidates for house offices received 70 votes, the number of Republicans present. Democrats acquiescing by remaining silent.

Dr. Alfred Robinson of Ironton, received 86 votes for sergeant-at-arms, although a Republican, many old Democrats, members of the house, voted for him as a personal compliment. Colonel Fred Blankner of Columbus, veteran third assistant sergeant-at-arms, received almost a unanimous vote.

Lieutenant-Governor Greenlund, on adoption of an authorizing resolution by the senate, appointed a committee to arrange for participation in the inauguration ceremonies, composed of Senator Gallagher of Madison, Collins of Hamilton, Archer of Noble, Lloyd of Franklin, and Fellingner of Cuyahoga.

In addition to the caucus choices for the officers in the senate, that body today elected Dr. C. J. Nichols of Marion county, third assistant, and L. H. Davis of Scioto county, fourth assistant sergeant-at-arms, with salaries of $85 a week.

Officials occupying jobs with good salaries and reported by the governor are:

Price Russell, Wayne county, superintendent of insurance, salary $6000; Frank Harper, Knox, superintendent of public printing, $2000; Wm. F. Mason, Butler, chief inspector of oils, $3500; Henry C. Gray, Butler, $3500, and George Walters, Scioto superintendent of banks, $3000. The senate is expected to refuse to ratify most of these. Walters is the only Republican.

Other appointments, most of which are honorary, or pay only per diem salary and expenses and which the senate is expected to ratify without great opposition are:

Trustees of Ohio State University: William F. Burdell, Franklin; John F. Cunningham, Cuyahoga.

Trustees of Miami University: W. A. Graham, Shelby; J. W. Beck, Hamilton; H. H. Herman, Montgomery; J. M. Withrow, Hamilton; D. R. Joyce, Butler; C. V. Parrish, Butler; Horace A. Irvin, Montgomery.

Trustees of Wilberforce University: Clarence E. Gardner, clerk; B. F. Stewart, Huron; M. W. Beaumont, Cuyahoga.

State Board of Pharmacy: Edward Voss, Jr., Hamilton.

State Board of Dental Examiners: H. C. Matlack, Hamilton.

Board of Library Commissioners: John McSweeney, Wayne; John J. Stoddard, Franklin.

State Army Board: J. M. Reiger, Henry; S. M. Johnson, Athens.

Trustees of the Kent Normal School: P. Z. Doble, Summit; Minson Havens, Cuyahoga.

Trustee of the Bowling Green Normal School: D. C. Brown, Henry; William Gutteau, Lucas.

Officers elected by the house are: John P. Maynard, Allen, clerk; O. E. Spring, Paulding, journal clerk; E. M. Kile, Madison, message clerk; C. W. Reynolds, Franklin, engrossing clerk; C. E. Harper, Morgan, enrolling clerk; Mrs. Ella Scriven, Franklin, recording clerk; Dr. Alfred Robinson, Lawrence, sergeant-at-arms, assistant sergeant-at-arms, first, J. D. Thomas, Franklin, second, John C. Griggs, Washington; third, Fred Blankner, Franklin.

Officers elected by the senate are: W. E. Halley, Darke, clerk; Warren A. Barnett, Franklin, assistant clerk; Wm. Jenkins, Hamilton, journal clerk; Walter J. Breen, Ross, message clerk; Fred L. Diles, Vinton, engrossing clerk; Charles S. Sutton, Cuyahoga, enrolling clerk; David A. Jones, Franklin, recording clerk; Ira Morrison, Summit, index clerk; Frank Ackerman, Putnam, sergeant-at-arms; assistant sergeant-at-arms, first, Jesse Cochran, Franklin; second E. E. Sperry, Lorain; third, Dr. C. J. Nichols, Marion; fourth, L. H. Davis, Scioto.

Edward W. Hughes of Franklin, was appointed a assistant clerk of the house by Clerk Maynard.

Supreme Judge R. M. Wanamaker administered the oath of office to both representatives and senators. Representative J. D. Starr gave the opening invocation in the house and Rev. W. A. Perrins in the senate.

Members of the senate who had been re-elected found their desks decorated today with huge bouquets of flowers. The house galleries were filled to capacity with spectators watching the legislative wheels begin to move. The senate attracted fewer persons. Lieutenant Governor Greenlund, presided over the senate, since Lieutenant Governor-elect John H. Arnold, will not be inaugurated until Monday.

State Graves called the house to order and presided until Representative Conover was elected speaker. The names of E. E. Munn, of Bowling Green, a Republican, and Christian Pabst, of Hamilton, Democrat, re-appointed members of the state tax commission recently by Governor Cox were not included in the list of recess appointees sent to the senate for confirmation by the governor. A conflict exists in the laws over whether these positions must be filled by persons agreeable to the senate. Governor Cox indicated by the neglect to report the names of Munn and Pabst that he believes senate ratification unnecessary.

The message of Governor Cox reads as follows:

To the General Assembly:

The past two years have carried us through the evolutionary changes in our state government growing out of the new constitution. The mandates issued by the people have been respected. The enlarged legislative authority has been exercised by the general assembly. The laws are in operation and the social and economic conditions that have resulted are so advantageous as to need no elaboration in this document. Two years ago the people were congratulated upon what we believed to be a manifestation of their wisdom in adapting themselves, through governmental agency, to industrial developments; and I take this occasion to extend further felicitations now that there has been a demonstration by practical results.

It is the fiscal affairs of the state that I desire primarily to discuss. There is in the general revenue fund of the state on Dec. 31, 1914, $8,654,762.98, a sum unprecedented in size. The balances in that fund as of the same calendar date in eight previous years were as follows:

December 31, 1913	$8,187,805.20
December 31, 1912	7,026,307.98
December 31, 1911	5,929,445.23
December 31, 1910	4,748,834.61
December 31, 1909	4,892,669.93
December 31, 1908	5,872,287.50
December 31, 1907	5,839,250.61
December 31, 1906	3,996,394.49

In addition to the general revenue fund there were in the treasury Dec. 31, 1914, monies under the following classifications:

Highway fund	$2,127,012.84
Sinking fund	32,184.71
Common school fund	15,724.42
Labor house fund	$21,866.48
Special school fund	20,000.00
Total	$2,566,788.45
General revenue fund	8,654,762.98
Grand total	$11,223,551.41

Extraordinary Expenses Incurred.

It must be borne in mind that this unparalleled condition of state finances exists in spite of extraordinary expenses growing out of emergency of the present administration. The flood catastrophe of 1913 cost the state approximately $1,000,000, while all bills incurred in the year 1912 by the constitutional convention—legal advertising, etc.—were paid in 1913 for the reason that that was the first opportunity the legislature had of making the necessary appropriations.

In addition to these matters, deficiencies authorized by the emergency board in 1912, amounting to $234,359.65, were taken care of the next year—1913—as had been the custom in the past. That the large balance has not been accumulated as the result of any neglect to the state institutions is shown by the provision which was made during 1913-14 for these several departments. During the biennium of 1913-14 there was disbursed for new buildings and lands for our universities, normal schools, state hospitals and correctional institutions $3,291,834.41. The items making up this total should be considered as betterments because the buildings for the most part are of fireproof construction and the lands will continue to grow in value. In 1909-10 the state spent for buildings and lands $1,774,558.76. In 1911-12 the disbursements for these purposes were $2,117,427.95; so that the present balance in the general revenue fund is emphasized when we consider that from it was taken in 1913-14 almost as much money for permanent betterments in behalf of state institutions as was provided in the previous four years. In order to correct a misapprehension which seems to be more or less general, not a dollar in the general revenue fund is derived by direct taxation. Inasmuch as public opinion, for or against governmental reforms, often develops from the logic of cost in dollars and cents to the individual, it is regrettable that a propaganda has been maintained in this state for the apparent mischievous purpose of fogging the public mind with reference to our real financial condition. The statement that a deficit existed in the treasury has been too absurd for consideration. Those who pursued that erroneous thought argued from the contention that against the cash balance in the treasury there should be figured the sum total of appropriations authorized by the general assembly. For illustration: it was said that if there were $10,000,000 in the treasury on the date that an appropriation bill became legally operative and the budget itself carried $11,000,000 to be expended within twelve months' time, then a deficit of $1,000,000 was created. If this principal were adopted in the affairs of private or corporate enterprises there would be few solvent concerns, and yet, applying this fallacious theory at this time the balance in the general revenue fund on the last day of the calendar year is large enough to overwhelm that argument because no deficit could be shown even by that method of bookkeeping. A considerable factor in the satisfactory condition of the finances of this commonwealth has been the passage of laws which make every department, with regulatory authority, self-supporting. Not only does society benefit by governmental regulation along prudent lines, but the institutions upon which official limitations are visited profit themselves; so the laws in question sprang from the thought that these organized agencies of business should bear the cost rather than impose it upon government.

Benefits Are Obvious.

Insurance companies, public utility corporations, building associations, banks, brokerage enterprises, etc., are not unwilling contributors to the public funds because the elements of benefit to them and justice to the public are too obvious to be denied. The law licensing and regulating the liquor traffic provided that, in addition to the regular $1,000 fee, there should be a registration cost of $100. The $1,000 assessment is divided by statute among the local and state governments. The $100 was levied for the purpose of maintaining the cost of regulation. The excess of collections over the expense of the entire license machinery has been sufficient to enable us to turn into the general revenue fund within the last year $750,000.

The genius of man has evolved principles of business in organization and accounting which clearly demonstrate the tremendous economic waste that flowed from old methods; and yet with no lingering scepticism of the new order, government has been unaccountably slow in departing from the beaten path. Within the last two years the budget department has been created by the state, and the gentleman in charge, Mr. Heffernan, brought to this very arduous responsibility, not only a broad and successful experience as an efficiency man and business expert, but he was trained in the methods of the bureau of municipal research in New York and came to us well equipped in budgetary work. In a recent report to the executive department he says:

"No commercial corporation, without reference to size, could survive a period of twelve months if its fiscal policy were the same as that which obtained in the state of Ohio prior to your incumbency in office. For an individual or corporation to continue business as the state of Ohio in the past has conducted her activities would mean bankruptcy."

First of all it was found that the state had a fiscal year, an appropriation year, a college year and one department operating under the calendar year. The appropriation year began Feb. 15. The legislature assembled by constitutional provision the first Monday in January, and of necessity the appropriation bill has been prepared in haste in order to have it available on the 16th of February. As a result, the appropriation committees of the senate and house have never had sufficient time to analyze the estimates coming from the departments and to localize disbursements in harmony with correct business principles.

Lump Sum Appropriations.

The fiscal year, under Section 266 of the general code, for all departments, institutions, public works and buildings of the state, ran from the 16th day of November to the 15th day of the next November, both inclusive. The appropriation year, as already noted, began Feb. 15 and ended Feb. 15. The last general assembly changed both the fiscal and the appropriation years, and the new fiscal and appropriation years begin July 1 and run until June 30. Inasmuch as the federal government has precisely the same arrangement and practically every state as well, comparisons can now be made with some guarantee of coherency. The old plan, too, has been unfavorable to the schools. The common schools, normal schools and universities begin in September and end in June. Under the old system comparisons were unsatisfactory, either in the consideration of enrollment or fiscal affairs, because a part of two years had to be taken into account. The time fixed for filing annual reports in midsummer is more advantageous for the reason that it is ordinarily the slack season. Under the old plan this work had to be done during a period of great departmental activity. Since its establishment as a state Ohio has made her appropriations in lump sum. There has never been a segregated budget. Its necessity was not so pressing in the days when the state was poor and the revenues were derived by direct taxation. Government was a smaller affair in the industrial and social activities. The approximate expense was easily computed and the direct tax levied on the state duplicate was made just large enough to meet the bills. Conditions, however, have changed. The state levy is only made for the universities, the school fund and what is known as the irreducible debt, the expenses of the departments being borne by excise or indirect taxation. Without the elements of vigilance, prudence and budgetary efficiency, a plethora of treasury would be a curse to the state. It is important that each department, instead of receiving a lump sum, or inflexible specific appropriations, as they have in the past, be given flexible specific appropriations in the form of a segregated budget which will be submitted to you this year for the first time in the history of Ohio. An example of the lump sum appropriation is:

"Maintenance" $100,000
 Of the inflexible specific appropriation:

"3 engineers" $5,400

Under practices of the past the legislature has acted largely upon the estimates of the departments. When the legislature is not in session the emergency board, consisting of the governor, attorney general, auditor and the respective chairmen of the senate and house finance committees, has the right to hold sessions and legalize disbursements from the treasury for pure emergencies. The departments, recognizing the restricted authority of the emergency board, have proceeded doubtless from the thought that it would be better to ask for ample sums and turn back the undischarged amount at the end of the fiscal year than to request a lesser amount that might be insufficient. This made department officers the custodians of funds which they could disburse without restraint or limitations so long as it was for the legitimate operations of the specific branch of the government; and if the evil of extravagance did not spring up, then it was no fault of the fiscal system to which we have held entirely too long. My experience as a member of the appropriations committee in Washington, and in the station now occupied, leads me to the positive conviction that the tendency toward increased and excessive cost of government, national, state and local, grows entirely out of the failure to adopt a budgetary plan of appropriations and disbursements. Your honorable body is enabled this year to intelligently make specific appropriations. The law creating the budget department did not become operative until late in 1913, so that it was impossible to carry out our aims in making the appropriations for the current biennium. In its statement to me the budget department says:

Budget Department Reports.

SLOW POISON
GIVEN BABES
BY A MOTHER

Associated Press Telegram.
New York, Jan. 4.—The slow poison administered six days ago by Mrs. Ida Rogers to her two babies and herself resulted today in the death of the older child, John, aged 2. Lorida, 8-months-old, died last Wednesday. The mother's death was expected.
Lorilla Elton Rogers, the lawyer who was known as her husband to the neighborhood in the Bronx where they lived, still kept his vigil at the sick woman's bedside. He had no comment to make; nor did Mrs. Annie Roquemore Rogers, who divorced Rogers in 1909; nor Mrs. Caroline Giddings Rogers, who married Rogers in 1909, and lived with him till last October on Riverside Drive.
Mrs. Annie Rogers has been a frequent caller at the hospital since Mrs. Ida Rogers was taken there, but she has declined to listen to questions concerning Rogers' life.

Eastern Ohio
Coal Company
Quits State

Associated Press Telegram.
Cleveland, O., Jan. 4.—That the Eastern Ohio coal operators consider it useless to make further efforts to negotiate a settlement of the strike which has been on since the first of April last; that many of the operators favor going on record as opposed to any future recognition of the United Mine Workers' organization, and that a number of companies plan to abandon the Ohio field, were statements made by operators who were here today to attend the meeting of the operators' association this afternoon.
"The coal business in Ohio has been ruined, and many of the operators already either have abandoned or will abandon their Ohio mines and operate mines in other fields where conditions are more favorable," said Walter R. Woodford, president of the operators' association before the meeting today.
"The Purslove-Maher company has abandoned its Ohio mines; has purchased property in West Virginia, and plans to operate it at once," he continued. "I could mention several other companies, among them one of the largest mine-owners in eastern Ohio, who are now negotiating for property in West Virginia and Kentucky preparatory to abandoning Ohio holdings."
Joseph Purslove of the Purslove-Maher company, confirmed the statement that his company would soon operate new mines in West Virginia. "We have already abandoned our Ohio mines," he said.
Mr. Woodford announced that an order issued by officials of the Lorain Coal and Dock Co., one of the largest mine owners in the strike zone and which became effective today, discontinued the services of mine bosses, engineers, firemen, electricians and safety inspectors. These men, it was stated, have been on duty daily since the strike was called nearly ten months ago. This order, operators said, indicated that the company had no thought of operating its mines soon.

Walter Smith, Killed by Canadian Soldiers.

Walter Smith is the young man of Buffalo who was shot to death by Canadian soldiers while he was hunting ducks on the Niagara River near Port Erie, Can. International complications with Great Britain have been suggested as a result, but officials of both governments insist there will be no serious consequences.
Smith, a friend, Charles Dorsh, according to accounts of the affair, was out early in the morning. They took their boat over into the Canadian side of the river. The Port Erie chief of police rushed to the bank to warn them off because it was closed season for hunting ducks in Canada. Later he called members of a military company from the fort. They fired on the two men in their boat. Smith was instantly killed, while Dorsh was wounded.

Paris, Jan. 4.—The French war office gave out an official statement in Paris this afternoon as follows:
"From the sea to the Oise the day passed in almost complete calm. The weather was rainy. There were artillery exchanges at some points of the front. In front of Noulette our heavy artillery reduced the German batteries to silence.
"On the Aisne and in Champagne the cannonading was particularly violent. Our batteries showed their superiority and brought under their fire reserve forces of the enemy. We became possessed of several points of support held by the Germans in the region of Perthes and of Mesnil-Les-Hurlus.
"Between the Argonne and the Meuse as well as on the heights of the Meuse there was intermittent cannonading.
"An effort made yesterday morning by our troops to occupy Borcuille did not succeed. Our advance continued in the forest of Lepetre which is to the northwest of Pont-a-Mousson.
"In upper Alsace we occupied an important height to the west of Cernay. A counter attack by the enemy was repulsed.
"In Steinhart we have taken possession of the vicinity of the church and of the cemetery."

In time of kidney danger Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective.
Plenty of Newark evidence of their worth.
Mrs. Charles Korzenbon, 128 Fleek avenue, Newark, says: "About three months ago I had a pretty severe case of kidney trouble. I suffered from terrific pains in the small of my back and at times I was so dizzy I couldn't stand without putting my hand on the wall to steady myself. The kidney secretions were unnatural and caused me a lot of annoyance. A relative had used Doan's Kidney Pills with success and advised me to try them. I got a supply at Smith's drug store and after I had taken one box I felt like a different woman. I can now do my work with ease and sleep soundly. I cannot praise Doan's Kidney Pills too highly."
Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Korzenbon had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TENTH STREET U. B.
CHURCH SUNDAY.

"Yesterday was a great day at the Glad Hand Church," Dr. Chipping's messages, morning, afternoon and evening on different aspects of Christian training were greatly appreciated and will be productive in our new life energy as the days go by. It has been, and shall be our policy in the development of our church principles and workers to leave theorizing and dogmatizing to those who are able, and who feel so disposed, but we shall say with Joshua of old as for "me and my house we will serve." We have tried "knowing things" and also "bringing things to pass" and frankly say we prefer the latter and we greatly rejoice that the messages of yesterday will greatly help us in "hitching on" to life problems. The day closed with four additions to the church at the evening service. M. R. White, pastor.

surveys, a personal service record has been made of each and every employee in the state. These, while they may not be of material interest to you, are a guide to us in making our allowances for personal service to the various departments and provide us with a means of checking individual efficiency of the state's employees. I would respectfully recommend to you that public hearings be had on all the estimates now in our hands. This, more than anything else, would bring about the ideal condition of cooperation.
I therefore urge upon the general assembly the exercise of the utmost care in voting appropriations. The budget is based upon a comprehensive inquiry into the needs of the service, and you should hesitate in exceeding it. Bear in mind at all times that the estimates of departments, generally speaking, include the element of desire and are not based entirely upon necessity. It may be urged that in making flexible specific appropriations, departments will be unable to deal with unforeseen contingencies that may arise. The answer to that is the suggestion that the powers of the emergency board be enlarged. The recent arrangement of making a fixed appropriation for the emergency board has worked so well that the old system ought never be re-established. While there were certain limitations placed upon the authority of the emergency board, there was none on the amount of money that could be disbursed; and besides, each recurring administration was called upon to pay the bills incurred by the emergency board in the preceding year. In 1913, for illustration, there fell to the record of expense of this administration the item of over $200,000 for disbursements made the year previous—1912. Under the scheme of making a fixed appropriation for the emergency board $200,000 was allotted and of this $117,862.75 was expended, leaving a balance of $82,137.25 on hand. It will therefore be seen that the emergency board, acting during this administration, will not transfer a dollar of cost to the incoming regime. I desire also to make the most urgent recommendation that the general assembly make no more deficiency appropriations. I have urged upon all state departments that no deficiencies would be recognized. No state official, in the first place, has any right under the law to incur a deficiency, and if any have developed, the responsibility should be turned back to the offending officer. Instructions from me have been so positive that I have both the hope and the belief that you will be enabled to establish the wholesome precedent against any deficiency appropriation bills.

The recurrent subject of the state erecting a building for the department that are now renting their quarters is again presented. The records disclose that the statehouse became inadequate space in 1902, at which time the fish and game commission leased its rooms outside. Other departments were established in office buildings on the dates indicated:

Automobile Department	1909
Board of Administration	1912
Department of Bank and Banking	1912
State Bldg.	1912
Board of State Charities	1913
State Board of Health	1917
Bureau of Vital Statistics	1908
Fire Marshal	1908
Fish and Game Commission	1902
Highway Department	1909
Industrial Commission	1911
Public Utilities Commission	1908
Tax Commission	1910
Legislative Reference Library	1910

In the last two years the state board of health, which was paying $7,328.40 a year rent, was moved to the university, and that amount saved. The only additional quarters procured were for the civil service commission, the state liquor licensing board (these two branches have been established by constitutional changes), the building and loan department and the censor board, both of which are self-supporting through fee assessments fixed by law.
The state proceeds in interest on monies in the treasury something over $400,000 a year. It would be my suggestion that this be diverted for the purpose of erecting an office building for the state, and continued until the funds are sufficient to carry out the project. In this connection, thought should also be given to the idea of co-operating with the city of Columbus in creating a civic center. The whole state naturally has pride in the capital city, and the plans adopted would probably mean no additional financial outlay but would add to the ornate beauty of the city.

For many years there has been discussed the matter of providing a residence for the governor. In the old days the chief executive was not expected to live in Columbus, but came here only when the legislature was in session. The many responsibilities that join to the station necessitate his giving it now all of his time. In 1880 Governor Bishop, on retiring from office, called attention to what other states were doing and urged it upon our commonwealth, as a matter of plain duty.

To an Ohioan, at least, the position of governor of this state is second only in importance to the presidency of the republic. He who occupies this responsible station should live in a manner befitting the dignity of the place. This entails a considerable cost which the governor should not himself bear. Living as we are under a liberal democracy, our people frown upon pomp or display; and yet a calculated, deliberate, obtrusive and otherwise mockish simplicity is more offensive to our sensibilities than gaudy ceremonial. I have gone to the trouble of making inquiry from other states as to what they have done in this connection. I find that thirty-three commonwealths have provided homes for the chief executive. Every state of importance has done so and Ohio should no longer continue an obvious neglect of duty. On retirement from office I feel free in urging that the state make provision for my successor, either by the purchase of a suitable home or the building of one.

Flood Relief Report.

There is transmitted to the clerk of the house of representatives an accounting of all funds collected and disbursed in connection with the flood disaster in Ohio in 1913. The general assembly March 26, 1913, passed H. B. 683, appropriating money for the relief of flood sufferers; and on April 26, S. B. 287, which empowered the governor to select an Ohio flood relief commission, to be made up of five residents of the state, the duty of this organization being to aid the communities that were affected. Pursuant to this the commission was made up of the following gentlemen: John H. Patterson, Dayton; H. H. Johnson, Cleveland; J. G. Schmidlapp, Cincinnati; S. O. Richardson, Toledo, and G. W. Lattimer, Columbus. On May 19 Mr. Patterson resigned and his place was taken by E. A. Deeds of Dayton.

I want to bear simple testimony in behalf of the service rendered by these patriotic citizens. The call to duty met with immediate response and their interest was sustained throughout the whole work. Communities were visited at great personal inconvenience and the work of relief was organized at the outset with such efficiency that every local committee received what in its judgment the stricken people required. It was the largest project of its kind in the history of our state, and it is with uncommon gratification that we are enabled to transmit now a report which is in fact an audit, not only of every disbursement to the penny made by the commission, but by the local community treasurers as well.

Compensation Law Threatened.
The humane results of the workmen's compensation law have been so widespread and the wisdom of the people in changing the constitution so as to make this plan compulsory has been so completely demonstrated that manufacturer and employer now join in praise of the act. While the liability insurance companies contended that the state could not administer this trust and that the cost would run into millions of dollars per year, the experience of the first twelve months shows the cost of administration to be approximately $160,000; and the claims running far in excess of 50,000 in number have been adjudicated with such promptness as to justify the fullest measure of the soundness of the state plan. The balance in the fund Dec. 15, 1914, was $2,418,414.07. The number of accidents is diminishing and the cost to the employer is decreasing; so that both lower rates and larger compensation seem assured. As one who passed through the stormy period that led to the passage of this law, I urge upon you the extreme importance of the highest manifestations of vigilance, patriotism and humanity in order that the fundamentals of this beneficent legislation might be preserved. Under the pretext of improving the law it can be easily emasculated. Ohio assumed the lead in this legislation, and if the fundamental principle is maintained here, the plan, by its demonstrated worth, will be adopted elsewhere. This means the ultimate loss of ill-gotten millions by potential interests that have grown rich from the tears, blood and maimed bodies of our working people. They will not give it up without a continued struggle. Your duty to humanity and to our state calls for extreme watchfulness.

Predicts Educational Revival.

The subject of education should always be transcendent in the aims and purposes of those in authority. The state of things in the world today demonstrates the inevitable establishment of many more republics. We not only live in the blessings of geographical isolation from the lands of trouble and tears, but we enjoy as well the benefits flowing from institutions built upon the sovereign will of our people. Worldwide evolutions are now upon us. Civilization may be compelled to face an unprecedented test, and it behooves us, therefore, to see to it that behind the suffrage expression of our people is a constantly improved standard and an enlarged measure of education. Every child in this state should have the opportunity of good school advantages. They have not had in the past in some sections. The depths of neglect and inefficiency to which the school system has drifted in some remote sections is not only a reproach upon a state as resourceful as ours, but a tragedy as well. I renew with undiminished enthusiasm an appeal in behalf of the rural sections and urge only forward steps in education. We have gained too much to have it lost. Folks have tasted the benefits of a modern rural system of education and rural life can only be stimulated by our facing the right direction. Good roads and good schools must continue to be our slogan. They go hand in hand and the improved facilities growing out of the present program will cost less than the old while the social and economic advantages can not be approximated. In the past two years the state contracted for the construction of 650 miles of modern highways—classified by materials used as follows:

Brick	189 miles
Concrete	151 miles
Macadam	310 miles

There is manifest awakening, not only with respect to the permanent improvement of the highways, but interest in the relative merits of material, and methods of transforming bad roads, at small expense seems general. The working out of a more efficient school system has given gratifying impetus to the highway movement because better facilities for transportation enter as an important factor.

Previous to Sept. 1, 1912, there were but 132 centralized school districts in Ohio. In two years' time 242 have been legally authorized; and within the next four weeks elections will be had upon twenty-five new projects. While the centralization of schools is of great importance, the new school law, which empowers county boards of education to redistrict the various counties for school purposes, is doing even a greater good as many districts have already been in part transferred to adjoining ones and the smaller part left has been added to others by a vote of the electors concerned. It is indeed a great movement, making not only for decreased cost of education per child, but vastly improved facilities, as well as better trained teachers.

In this connection it seems to me that some plan should be devised of so conducting our three universities as to make them co-operative. Doubtless the trustees of the three boards could devise a scheme which would work a benefit to each institution. There should be encouraged any movement calculated to generate animosity as between them. There is a useful sphere for them all.
It is my further observation that more girls' dormitories should be built at the universities. Under the system in vogue their maintenance costs nothing, as they are self-supporting. They provide a home and protection for young women whose aims and aspirations bring them to the college seats.

Congratulates All Ohioans.

Altogether, at the beginning of a new year and a new governmental regime in the state, we should all felicitate ourselves as proud citizens of a great commonwealth that our fiscal condition is healthy beyond precedent; that industrial justice and peace have been wrought by the workmen's compensation law, which has removed the courts from the zone of distrust and re-established them in the confidence of the people; that we are dedicating our efforts in larger measure to education so that the boy and girl in remote locations back on the mud road see the manifestations of interest on the part of his and her government in their educational and material welfare; that taxes, on the average, were lower at the last tax-paying time in December than ever before. We are fortunate to have sprung from the loins of a citizenship that built up such a state, located in the choicest place of all the world's domains—a rich heritage indeed. We are not only, therefore, a proud people, but we should be a contented and happy people as well.
JAMES M. COX, Governor.
